Lisa Webley, Harriet Samuels : Complete Public Law: Text, Cases, and Materials before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Complete Public Law: Text, Cases, and Materials:

Complete Public Law: Text, Cases, and Materials combines extracts from key primary and secondary materials with clear explanatory text to provide a complete resource for students of constitutional and administrative law. The book has been carefully structured with the needs of undergraduate students in mind. Opening with a consideration of basic constitutional principles (in which no previous knowledge is assumed), the authors move on to cover parliamentary supremacy and the concept of responsible government, before closing with extensive consideration of the principles and procedures of judicial review. A wealth of learning features such as thinking points, diagrams, useful notes, summary points and reflective questions provide valuable support for students. Online Resource Centre This book is accompanied by a comprehensive Online Resource Centre which contains the following resources:For students:- Updates- Web links- A flashcard glossary of key terms- A timeline of key eventsFor lecturers:- A fully customizable test bank of multiple choice questions with answer feedback

"I would recommend this book without hesitation. The features guide students through what can often be a very confusing subject, and the text is clear and summarizes the material in a way which makes it easy to understand." -- Colin Faragher, Senior Lecturer, University of West London
"I would not hesitate to recommend this book to students...the writing style is clear, the language is student friendly, and the text is extremely easy to follow." --Angela King, Senior Lecturer in Law, Teesside University
"An impressive pedagogical approach...[the authors] have selected some interesting excerpts from books and articles. In terms of public law text and materials books, I would place this on a par with the best in the field." --Dr Mike Varney, Lecturer in Law, University of Hull
