From Edward Elgar Pub : Merger Remedies in American and European Union Competition Law before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Merger Remedies in American and European Union Competition Law:

This impressive volume presents a detailed comparative analysis of merger remedies in the EU and US, motivated by the fact that a growing number of mergers are being scrutinised and reviewed under both jurisdictions. Merger remedies on either side of the Atlantic play an increasingly important role in the implementation of public policy with regard to the economic concentration of industry. The book provides an understanding of merger remedies in general, and of procedural and substantive differences in the approach of the EU and the US. The editors have gathered together leading European and American practitioners and scholars to comprehensively discuss this issue. They aim to help policymakers decide if, and how, current practices can be improved, and to help firms and their counsel better prepare cases and predict outcomes. This volume sets forth an agenda for future research by providing a critical overview of merger remedies and their implementation in the EU and US. It will become the requisite study in the field for scholars of industrial organisation, law and economics, and for legal practitioners and policymakers working in the realm of competition law.

'The editors aimed to launch the relevant research agenda and develop questions, ideas and information for future research. This goal should be most welcome and has been fully achieved.' -- Alexandre de Stree, European Competition Law About the Author Edited by Francois Leveque, Professor of Law and Economics, Ecole des mines de Paris, France and Howard Shelanski, Professor of Law, School of Law, University of California, Berkeley, US
